Tom's New Club *Activity

Tom is a junior high school student from Canada. He came to Japan with his family three weeks ago. He's good at speaking Japanese. He soon made a lot of friends.

Last Monday, his English teacher, Ms. Takahashi asked him, "How did you learn Japanese?" Tom said, "I'm interested in Japanese culture. I learned Japanese by watching Japanese *anime." Ms. Takahashi said, "Do you want to join the karate club? Karate is one of the *traditional Japanese sports. Your classmate Saki is a member of the karate club."

The next day, Tom asked Saki, "How many members are there in the karate club?" Saki said, "About thirty. Our classmate Sora is also a member. We have practice on Mondays and Thursdays. Why don't you join us? It'll be fun." Tom said, "Yes."

Last Thursday, Tom went to *training hall with Saki and Sora. Tom practiced for two hours. After practice, he thought, "It's hard, but it's fun." Tom became a new member of the karate club.

Christmas

Christmas is a big holiday in both the USA and Japan, but people celebrate it differently. In the USA, Christmas is a family holiday. Families *decorate their homes with lights and trees, and they eat a big dinner together. Many people go to *church and give gifts to each other. In Japan, Christmas is not a *traditional holiday, but it is popular. Japanese people often enjoy eating cake and fried chicken on Christmas. It is more fun for *couples and friends. Both countries enjoy the holiday, but the *traditions are not the same.
